

Sussex Family Historian Compilation: not working correctly

As a result of changes to computer operating systems and web browsers the Sussex Family Historian compilation (SFH) may no longer work fully.

The searching facility may not work however, you can still view the images of the pages by selecting the appropriate file using file explorer etc.

We have developed and can provide a free software "patch" to update most SFH versions that are on USB memory sticks.

Contact publicity@sfhg.uk with details of the SFH USB and the computer/version.

Please also provide a screen-shot of the list of the files on the Memory Stick, if possible, and we will get back to you.

Our SFHG addresses are manned by volunteers, so a response may not be immediate.
