The Heathfield Chapel Sermon and Hymn Indices created by Madeline Cole
Introduction by Oxley Extra Volunteers

The Oxleys, and many families named in the diaries, attended the Heathfield Independent Chapel, at Chapel Cross, located between Cade Street and Punnetts Town. The villages of Rushlake Green and Warbleton, two important locations in the diaries, are about three miles away. The parishioners of Oxley's time would most likely have walked to church, with a morning, afternoon and sometimes evening service on a Sunday, with extra weekday prayer meetings. The main hymn book used was Lady Huntingdon's Collection and the services were usually led by the Rev John Press. Some diary entries tell us when the Rev Press was on holiday or unwell, when a replacement speaker would attend from a nearby town, such as Hailsham and Herstmonceux, or further afield from Lewes, Brighton, Wivelsfield and Tunbridge Wells. Lady Sober¹ often presided over weekday meetings at Stonehouse in Rushlake Green, and on one occasion when she was indisposed, her assistant Miss Capper took over.² Bible readings and hymn numbers³ for the morning, afternoon and evening services, were meticulously recorded in the diaries, along with the names of family members who regularly attended chapel.

There were no burial records for the Heathfield Chapel before 1824, so this document has some genealogical value, where the diaries have noted baptisms and funerals for which there are no official records. Some of the funeral entries have been cross referenced with the Heathfield Chapel Monumental Inscriptions which are available on the SFHG's Sussex Discovery, but not all the vital events mentioned in the indices have names in the chapel inscriptions.

Madeline Cole would have spent many hours sourcing this very detailed information for the Heathfield Chapel Sermon and Hymn Indices from individual entries in the diaries. Oxley Extra volunteers have now transcribed the data into this pdf document. By analysing and cross-referencing the data, new discoveries about the members of the Heathfield Chapel Congregation may be found, where vital records may not be available.

¹ Please see Henry, M. (2024) The Oxley Farm Diaries, p.xviii for information about Mrs Sobers.

² Miss Capper was Selina Sarah CAPPER, the daughter of the Rev James CAPPER of Wilmington, Sussex. Please see the Oxley Extra online CAPPER Family Tree for further information.

³ Hymns were listed from 1816.
